Alumni Profile: Luna Chomsinsub

Running a family business takes a lot of hard work, motivation, and dedication. For CSUSB alumna, Luna Chomsinsub (Salomon), B.A. psychology, it has been a rewarding experience running her family's business, Arrangements Floral & Party Décor.

How does she utilize what she learned in psychology? "I'm not using it how I intended to, but what I learned in class has certainly helped in using to get the upper hand when dealing with a stressful bride and bridal family. Ultimately, I want to make sure that the a bride and family feel relaxed and are enjoying the moment," said Luna.

Eight years ago, at the age of 20, Luna started working part-time for her family's flower shop in Palm Desert while still attending CSUSB. Today, Luna dedicates her full time to designing wedding concepts/décor, creating floral arrangements and managing many other aspects of the family business. "For so many years, I watched my dad build his business, so my first memorable experience at my job was being the sole coordinator in designing someone's wedding from floral and décor arrangements to the design of the invitations," said Luna.

Luna lives in Palm Desert, with her husband, CSUSB alumnus Shana Chomsinsub, and their two year old son, Sky.
